THE NHS EMBLEM

The emblem of the NHS is the flaming torch. The torch has, from earlier times, been the symbol of knowledge. Unlit, it has no power to lead and guide. It is of no effect until the touch of a match changes it into a vital and beautiful flame.

Similarly, the wisdom and inspiration that is buried in the greatest treasure house of books and hidden in the minds of men are of no value until, by faithful study, we unlock these stories and share them for the use of mankind.

As man has long lighted a torch to guide him into dark places, so all who seek truth must light the torch of knowledge.

The life of a scholar is guided by the search for truth. Although shadows are occasionally cast by personal prejudices and ignorance, as the search continues, more light is shed on the truth. From generation to generation, the torchlight should brighten. It is hoped that our generation can cast light rather than shadow in the quest.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY PLEDGE

(New members stand and raise their right hand. Current members stand and turn facing new members)

*I pledge myself to uphold the high purposes of the National Honor Society
to which I have been selected;
I will be true to the principles for which it stands:
and will maintain and encourage
high standards of scholarship, service, leadership and character.*

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY MOTTO

NOBLESSE OBLIGE is a French phrase, literally meaning nobility obligates. In broader terms, it signifies that those of high rank have the obligation to behave honorably, generously and responsibly to others.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY FLOWER

The yellow rose

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY COLORS

*BLUE- represents the sky- unlimited boundaries
GOLD- represents the sun – the light /flame
that guides its members on their journey*
